The probabiuon people, in, the eastern states have made what they call "another advance". Eltherto they have attempted to work for prohibition, to some extent, through the great po-litical parties. They say now that this made o action will be abandoned. They will present no more petitions to the old parties. They will look for no more help through them, but will insist on carrying out their purposes solely through under endent organization

Moreover, they say they are fully convinced hat nothing of real value can be accomplished for prohibition through state action. A state can prevent the manufacture of inquors within lers, but it can't keep out liquors shipped from other states, and therefore it might as pational government anthorizes the importation of liquers from foreign countries it does not problight the transportation of liquers from one state to smother, and consequently though a state may shut up all the broweries and distileries within it, still it can not not a s on to the Lquor traffic upon its sol. The pamps may hold their own; they may even gard apon the water in the hold, but the fight can't be sept up forerer. We have our man, who hink "there is no sin but to be nich." and then thunk "there is no sin out to be lich "and then too, we have our men who think "there is no vice but beggary". The European situation presents no new fer lures this morning Preparations for war are being actively procedured in England and the anti-Russian swirth runs high. The Crimean days have not been forgotten, and to measure swords once more with the hated Cossack is the ambitton of many old officers. Volunteers are rendily ffering their services, general eithur rem has been roused, and the Soudan riistake will soon be forgotten if the scenes of war are transferred to the shores of the Black sea or the Bulke. It is stated that Vice President Hendricks at ter careful inventory finds that the patronage at his despical comprises only a private secretary, te legraph operator for the senate, and the keep er of the senate restaurant. They are first given away—left in samples at private residences, with circulars containing hogus an alyses and certificates, and falso representations as to their value, etc. This fact of tiself is sufficient to condemn them. A first class article will sell on its merits. No manufacturer whose goods he of value can uff not to give them away, and none but the cheapest make and most unferfor unmarkatable goods require to be distributed free in order to get the public to use them and this method is adopted only by parties who have failed to dispose of first wares through the ordinary and legituante channels of mode.

The only safe way is to consign all such samples momediately to the ash barrel, and to turn a deaf ear to the stalements made by their way ders. It is not worth while to iraile with life and hear th to the extent of testing every doubtful baking powder that comes along Better to rely upon an pid and teliable braind, like the Royal, which has by a quarter of a century's constant use proved its perfect wholesomeness and efficiency, or some other braind that is not so worthless and cheap that its proprietors can afford to give it away by the cartload. It is in its favor that the Boyal Paking Powder is never given away, sold by means of botteries, nor ac companed by chromos, spoens, crockery, or other gives, except the gifts of absolute purity, whelesomeness, full weight, and superlative havening power. Its own merits have been its chief advertusment, and they have secured for it the constant paironage of the American people to an extent beyond the combined safe of all other haking powders. The Boyal Baking Powder is certified by all the government chemists as absolutely pure and perfect.
